COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 13, 1880.

OWING to a native holiday we have had another very quiet day in general business, and there are few movements of any kind to notice.

From London yesterday's subscription telegram quotes Consols ¼ higher at 97⅞, and French Rentes are unchanged at 116½, and Enfaced Rupee Paper at 77¼ for Fours and 85½ for Fours-and-a-half.

In the General Produce markets, Coffee and Cocoanut Oil remain unaltered, and in Seeds the only movement reported is a decline of 6d. per quarter in Brown Calcutta Rapeseed. In Metals, Reuter quotes an advance of £1 per ton in Tile Copper, £2 in Copper Braziers, and 10s. per ton in Silesian Spelter.

The Manchester Piece Goods market continues firm, and private advices report business impracticable at rates equivalent to current prices here.

Cotton in Liverpool, Reuter says, closed quiet, Surats firm, sales 10,000 bales, of which 800 were Surats, spot prices unaltered; but private messages call the tone dull; Surats, to arrive, difficult of sale. In New York prices were unchanged yesterday at 12 13-16 cents for ready Mid. Uplands and 13·33 cents per lb. for April shipment. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date show the following comparisons :—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
Two days' Receipts	22,000	24,000	34,000
Three days' Do.	42,000	38,000	61,000
Total since 1st Sept.	3,351,000	2,863,000	2,707,000

Bar Silver in London is still quoted at 52d. per oz.

EXCHANGES to-day has been very quiet with no practical alteration in rates. The Banks are to the full as willing sellers as buyers on the existing level, but not to an extent to affect the market, and we must now await the result of to-morrow's biddings for Council drafts before estimating the probable course of prices for the remainder of the mail. Closing quotations are :—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 8 3-16d.	per Rs.
Do. 2 months' sight...	1s. 8 5-16d.	"
Credits 3 " ...	1s. 8 7-16 to 15-32d.	"
Documents 3 " ...	2/15	"
France 3 " ...	2/15	"

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at 1-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight at ½ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER is dull and slightly easier, at :—Fours, Rs. 92½ to ¾; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 101½.

The SHARE market continues quiet, and transactions are on a very limited scale. Bank of Bombay are unchanged at Rs. 696½, Land and Press Companies unaltered. In Spinning and Weaving Mill shares we quote a decline of Rs. 30 in Coorla, and an advance of Rs. 5 in Great Eastern, Hindustan, and Maneckjee Petit.

COTTON has been very dull with a most limited business passing. Sellers are slow to reduce prices, whilst buyers, under the influence of reduced limits from home, only operate to cover their more immediate requirements. Some small purchases have been made on the Green of Good Julgaum at Rs. 237½ and Broach for March delivery has been done at Rs. 245, but the total of the Cotton which has changed hands is comparatively insignificant. In the meantime, arrivals are not increasing as might have been expected, the receipts for the past five days being only 9,000 bales.

SEEDS continue very quiet at about previous rates.

FREIGHTS for Liverpool by steam are decidedly weak, the quantity of tonnage fixed for loading during the next few weeks being evidently in excess of our requirements. For immediate shipment 37s. 6d. to 40s. has been paid, but further forward 32s. 6d. for Measurement and 30s. for Seeds finds few takers. For London we quote 37s. 6d., and for Genoa and Marseilles and Trieste and Venice 42s. 6d. to 43s. 9d. per ton, payable here.

PIECE GOODS continue very firm in the bazaar, although owing to the holiday little has been done. To arrive operations are still restricted by Manchester, prices being above the parity of this market.

COALS are quiet but steady. Sales, to arrive, are reported of some small lots of Davison's West Hartley by steamer at Rs. 18 per ton alongside, but there are practically no more sellers at this rate.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM THE PRESS COMMISSIONER.)

THE KHANSHIP OF LALPURA.

GATHERING OF MOHMUNDS.

CALCUTTA, JAN. 13.

It is reported from the Khyber that Sadik Khan, of Lalpura, has left for Keima with a personal following and two standards, apparently with hostile intentions. His brother, Akbar Khan, has, since his departure, assumed the Khanship of Lalpura with the consent of the British Government, and has come into the British camp.

A large body of Mohmunds have assembled at Polsoi and Reika. Some forty men are said to have crossed the river fifteen miles below.

Ahakka Moghul, Khan of Goshta, is reported to be at Sangar Serai on the left bank of the Kabul river, opposite Gardikhach.

Ashmatulla Khan is said to be in the Lughman country.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

RUMOURED WARLIKE INTENTIONS OF MAHOMED JAN.

ABSCONDING OF THE KHAN OF LALPURA.

ALLAHABAD, KUTTRA, JAN. 13.

KABUL, Jan. 10.—Various rumours reach us daily from Ghazni as to the warlike intentions of Mahomed Jan, and there can be little doubt he is recruiting from the local Ghilzais even so far as east of Khost. His collection of revenue in Musa Jan's name is a bold move and gives an appearance of patriotism to the insurgents. His aim is now to secure co-operation from Gholam Hyder, of Turkistan, who has guns and ammunition, and will throw his force into Charikar and Bamian.

JELLALABAD, Jan. 11.—Colonel Macgregor arrived here on the 9th to confer with General Bright relative to the posts on the line of communications and the future disposition of troops. He returns to Kabul to-morrow.

The officer commanding Daka reports that the Khan of Lalpura has absconded. Parties who have arrived state that the men are collecting on the opposite side of the river. The ferry boat which plies between Lalpura and Daka had been sent away, but it was recovered burnt. The party sent in search of it was accompanied by Mr. Merk, Political Officer. One man of the artillery has been drowned, but particulars have not yet been received. Forty bags of grain was found in the ferry boat, evidently intended for the use of the Mohmunds who have assembled at Polosi. Some bullocks bringing bhoosa from Barikab have been driven off and two drivers killed.

A company of the 1-12th Regiment was sent down to strengthen the post of Alibaghan last night near where an armed party, probably of Shinwaris, were lately seen. Nothing unusual occurred. The company returned to Jellalabad to-day.

The latest information about the Khan of Lalpura is that he still professes friendship towards us.

LAHORE, Jan. 12.—Mr. Lepel Griffin leaves to-morrow night for Calcutta. It is understood his visit is in connection with the present situation in Afghanistan.

Yesterday morning the Minerva and Cicero arrived and went into the Prince's Dock, both vessels drawing 21 feet.

IT is officially notified that Mr. C. G. W. Hastings, Officiating District Superintendent of Police, Punjab, is placed temporarily on special political duty with the British Force under Lieutenant-General Sir F. S. Roberts, K.C.B., V.C., vice Mr. C. Brown.

BY order of the Governor-General in Council the Indian Arms Act, 1878, is extended to the territories of Mysore, subject to a few modifications.

IT is officially notified that Major C. B. Euan Smith, C.S.I., Officiating Political Agent, Muskat, is attached temporarily on special political duty to the staff of Lieut-General Sir D. M. Stewart, K.C.B., Commanding Southern Afghanistan Field Force, with effect from the date of taking charge.

MR. EDWARD WOODFIELD COLLIN, B.A., Bengal Civil Service, is appointed to be Private Secretary to the Honourable Sir John Strachey, G.C.S.I., C.I.E., Member of the Governor General's Council.

A BREVET majority has been conferred on Captain the Hon. G. Napier, C.I.E., Assistant Commissioner, Punjab, and for some time past on special political duty. This promotion is "in recognition of his distinguished service rendered by him during the employment on special duty in Persia." Major Napier is gazetted to one year's furlough on private affairs.

THE Indu-Prakash says that Sir Richard Temple's Government has after all been able to bring a most painful controversy—respecting the rights of the Khotes of Ratnagiri—to something like a settlement. It is said when his Excellency took charge of this Presidency, his retiring predecessor gave him to understand that his energy, whatever it could accomplish in other directions, would probably fail in this Khoti question, which the studied efforts of three successive Governors such as Sir Bartle Frere, Sir Seymour Fitzgerald and himself (Sir Philip Wodehouse) had been unable to finally cope with. The remark touched Sir Richard and he determined that the question should come to an end in his régime. Mr. Crawford was at once sent to Ratnagiri with instructions to negotiate with the Khots about their rights. And the result is now before the public. A Bill was ushered into the Council last September and it has now finally passed. One may have a good deal to say against particular provisions of it—and some of them very important inasmuch as they affect some long enjoyed privileges of the Khots—but, on the whole, it is satisfactory to think that the troubled waters of the question have been for once pacified.

THE construction of the Keamaree landing pier at Kurrachee, which will cost about five lakhs, has been sanctioned. The Lahore paper says this decision will be welcomed, not only by the population of Soinde and the Punjab, but by all who have the real interests of the country at heart. The advantages of an improved harbour at Kurrachee cannot be overestimated. The port is the natural landing place for the troops and military stores required in Northern India, and beyond our old frontier; and, as we have already shown, even much larger vessels than our troopships,—vessels drawing close upon twenty-four feet of water,—have been easily accommodated in the anchorage. By means of the new pier, steamers will be brought almost side by side with the S. P. and D. Railway Company's wagons,—an advantage which will be greatly appreciated not only by shippers, but by overland passengers, the number of whom, travelling by the Aden-Kurrachee route, is largely increasing. We venture to hope that the Government may follow up the present measure by sanctioning the removal of "deep water point." The cost will be small; and the displacement of the obstruction would afford room for several more steamers of the very largest size.

ON Friday, the 8th instant, at 9-30 p. m., their Excellencies the Viceroy and Lady Lytton held a drawing-room at Government House. The following members of the Viceroy's staff were in attendance:—Colonel Sir George Pomeroy Colley, Private Secretary; Major A. C. W. Erskine, Officiating Military Secretary; Lieut.-Col. W. L. Dalrymple, Mr. H. B. Rose, Mr. F. Smith, Mr. Gerald Fitzgibbon, Mr. H. Herbert, Aides-de-Camp; Major G Jackson, and Mr. D. A. Thullier, Body Guard, and Mr. D. Panoty, Assistant Private Secretary.

MAJOR A. SCOTT, 4th Sikhs, on recruiting duty at Amritsar, has been ordered to Kabul as wing commander of one of the native regiments short of officers, being relieved at Amritsar by Major Finnis from Gardaspore.

ONE hundred mules purchased by Major Probyn in Persia have arrived at Kurrachee in the steamer Agra from Bushire. Thirty-three of these are for the artillery and sixty-seven for the transport train. They have all left by train for Jhelum.

THE Governor of Madras with his personal staff, and accompanied by the Ladies Grenville, started on Monday on his postponed tour to the Godavery District by the Buckingham Canal. The party left Government House in the afternoon, and proceeded by carriage, first to Ennore, where every arrangement had been made for his Grace to embark in the boats specially fitted up for the cruise. His Grace and party will encamp for a day at "Binny's Lodge" at Ennore, where police and other arrangements for their accommodation have been in active preparation for the last few days. Ten boats have been deputed to convey the Ducal party up the Canal.

MR. MALLEY'S case, says the Madras Times, is a grim comment upon the condition and prospects of the junior members of the Madras Civil Service. We learn that they are as bad as, or worse than those of the juniors of the North-West Provinces, whose grievances were relieved after discussion in Parliament; but by the recent rules as to memorialising they have been forbidden to submit a memorial to Government. Their chances of acting promotion have been lessened by refusal of all leave in the famine of 1877, and they have not received any special concessions of leave or even thanks for their services as we at one time hoped. This is a grievance which, we trust, may yet be agitated in such a way as to result in more considerate treatment shown to the aggrieved. The hardship of the position is rendered all the more grievous by the fact that those who suffer from it are precluded from even the privilege of complaining, for, by the operation of the rules which forbid the submission of a memorial to Government, their months are virtually shut since individual representations will be almost worse than useless.

SIR STAFFORD NORTHCOTE has decidedly had a stroke of luck in the successive deaths of several rich men within a few months, events which will cause him windfall to the Exchequer of some £500,000.

Truth is informed that the Queen is far from pleased at Lord Lytton's high-handed proceedings in smuggling Yakub Khan away to India. Her Majesty does not relish this kind of policy on the part of her Viceroy when dealing with a prince who is a sovereign, not merely de jure, but de facto also.

I AM, says Truth, glad to see that Lord Ailesbury has come forward to protest against the battues which are dignified with the name of sport. It may be an exercise of skill to stand for an hour or two with a man behind loading one gun as the other is discharged, whilst pheasants and hares are being driven by beaters towards the gunner, then to lunch copiously, and after lunch to renew the exploits of the morning, but sport it is not, any more than sitting in an arm-chair and shooting hares tied to the legs of the dining-room table would be sport. The labourer, the farmer, and the landlord, said Lord Beaconsfield, divide the produce of the soil between them. To these three he ought to have added pheasants and hares. A rich man may spend his money on a whim, and possibly the whim of killing more pheasants at a battue than any of his neighbours is not more hurtful than many other whims; but then those landlords who are not rich, and who are crying out for relief, must understand that, so long as they insist upon keeping their woods stocked with excessive, and absurdly excessive, quantities of game, very little sympathy will be felt for them. Lord Ailesbury and Lord Dudley have returned 20 per cent at their rent audits, and have besides made concessions to their tenants in the matter of game.

THE editors of the London society journals are nothing if not personal, as witness the following from Truth:—"My poor Edmund, a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. You have mistaken the city of New York for the State of New York. It is in Elmira, a town in the west of the State, not in Central Park of New York City, that a statue of Adam is contemplated. Here are the details from the Hartford Churchman, which I publish for your special benefit:—"It is said that the citizens of Elmira, N. Y., propose to erect something before Saturday of monument to Adam, the patriarch of all humanity. If they raise funds enough, we trust some Hebrew professor will remind them that Adam means red, and that the tradition is that he was formed out of red clay. Of course, then, to be in keeping, the monument should be constructed from red granite. As this is, so far as we know, indestructible, the monument, like Cleopatra's Needle, may be at least as immortal as the world. If the ladies should object to taking a share in the expense, because of Adam's not very handsome treatment of his spouse, we beg them to remember that family harmony was restored, and, as we believe, completely. If the probabilities were against this, Milton (no very partial judge of feminine delinquencies) would surely have paraded the supposed fact in his 'Paradise Lost.' Whereas, he seemed to be inclined quite another way; and we have always been disposed to make a great deal of the manner in which Adam and his wife took their leave of Paradise, according to the poet's picture of the scene:

> 'The world was all before them, where to choose
> Their place of rest, and Providence their guide:
> They, hand in hand, with wand'ring steps and slow,
> Through Eden took their solitary way.'

Thus, we hope, the sons and daughters of Adam in Western New York will imitate their remote progenitors, and go hand in hand toward the erection of a monument which shall be fresh for a hundred generations."

THE Debats and the Temps comment on the serious news from Kabul. The former dwells on the constant liability to surprises, the difficulties of the season, the fear of a general rising as 40 years ago, in which case the troops might not be strong enough to face a simultaneous attack, and the uncertain future. Adherence to the scientific programme would be the most rational, but its efficacy must be doubted after what happened to the Embassy. Russia has too much to do at home to be likely to give trouble; but the climate and the people will give the English plenty of employment. The Temps remarks that the English, like the Russians, are now finding out the danger of excessive confidence even in an Asiatic war.

SOLDIER DESERTERS.—Two European soldiers of H. M.'s 2-16th Infantry Regiment were arrested yesterday by Mr. Constable Zillah as deserters from their regiment at Secundrabad and handed over to the military authorities at Colaba.

THEFT.—Staff Sergeant Rodgers, employed at the Assistant Quarter-Master General's Office, and residing in Rutherfield Street, Fort, reported to the police the theft of Rs. 27 in a currency note and cash. A Goanese who was living with complainant's cook is supposed to have committed the theft.

SUICIDE.—A Coroner's inquest was held yesterday at Purshotum Chimunjee Street, Fort, touching the death of Merwanjee Muncherjee, who is said to have taken a poisonous dose of arsenic and died from its effects. Deceased is said to have been very much depressed owing to the recent death of his children. The following verdict was recorded:—"That the death of the deceased was caused by arsenic, which he voluntarily administered to himself."

THE VYSHNOVS IN MOURNING.—The Vyshnovs, the followers of the Wallabhacharyan Maharajas, went into mourning on Sunday and Monday last by closing their shops and stopping all business, in token of respect to the memory of Jeevunlaljee Maharaj of Bombay, news of whose decease they received by the last mail. The Maharaj left Bombay with the intention of proceeding on a pilgrimage to Benares; but death cut short his tour at Surat.

PROBATIONARY ASSISTANT COLLECTOR.—Mr. Sorabjee Padamjee has been appointed a probationary Assistant Collector at Poona. He is the young gentleman of this Presidency selected by the Viceroy for admission to the Civil Service.

THEFT AT THE STORE SHEDS IN THE CRAWFORD MARKET.—Hussain Ali Abdool and Messrs. Forbes & Co., ice manufacturers, occupy godowns in the large shed standing alongside the Crawford Markets, and there is a means of communication between the two godowns. On Sunday night last twelve galvanised iron buckets were stolen from the first complainant's godown, and an umbrella, two glass chimneys, and two tumblers stolen out of the second complainant's godown. The thief is supposed to have got secreted in one of the godowns in the same range, and during the night managed to effect the robbery by getting out by one of the end windows in the ice godown. Police enquiries are in progress.

A DARING THEFT.—On Friday last information was given to Mr. Inspector Jones that a cart in a pair of bullocks, belonging to Appa Luximon, had been stolen by some person. Subsequently, on the same day, two grain merchants made complaints to the same police officer that a cart driver had made away with nine bags of grain, valued Rs. 150, which were in his cart at Mandvie Bunder and ordered it to be conveyed to their shop at Bhat Bazaar. Mr. Inspector Jones, upon enquiry on the following day, arrested the cart driver, who is named Mahadoo Cassibe, and two others, named Munjee Noor Mahomed and Koonjali Hooka, of Lane, Cammatipoora, where it appears the three parties engaged a portion of a house and were disposing of the stolen grain at a remarkable cheap rate. The cart and the bullocks were also subsequently recovered. The first prisoner, Mahadoo Cassibe, attempted to steal another pair of bullocks on the previous Wednesday, but was then secured by the police and left the cart and bullocks and effected his escape. The three prisoners were yesterday placed before Mr. Nana Morojee, at the instance of Mr. Inspector Jones, prisoner No. 1 on three separate charges of theft in respect of the two pair of bullocks and two carts and the nine bags of grain, and the other two with aiding and abetting in the commission of the said offence. The prisoners were all convicted. Prisoner No. 1 was sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment, prisoner No. 2 to two years' similar imprisonment, and the third prisoner to one year's rigorous imprisonment.

BOMBAY TOWN COUNCIL.

AT the regular meeting of the Town Council held yesterday, there were present—the Chairman, Dr. Blaney, Sir Frank Souter, Messrs. C. Douglas, Kirkham, Dosabhoy Framjee, Rao Saheb Wishwanath Mundlik, Raghunath Narayen Khote, Nanabhoy Byramjee Jeejeebhoy, Rahimtoolla Sayani, and M. M. Banajee. The Municipal Commissioner was also present.

THE TULSI MAIN.

Sanction was given to the cost of 400 brass ferules for the Tulsi, in order to prevent the present waste of water. The ferules now in the Tulsi main had been supplied for Vehar, but the pressure was so considerable that the ferules were not strong enough, and people in this city often could not stop their taps, thus causing much waste of water.

THE MALABAR HILL RESERVOIR.

A voluminous report upon the Malabar Hill reservoir contract, from Mr. Walton, was submitted, but not read. The report of the Consulting Engineer was not complete, and it was necessary that all the papers and correspondence should be printed and circulated amongst the members, before the subject was properly discussed by the Council. The Municipal Commissioner stated that the contracts for the road, bridge, and reservoir were all included in one document, though for separate sums. Mr. Forde's report on the road and bridge portions would probably be ready in a few hours' time, and that would have to be replied to by Mr. Walton, before the subject could be fully dealt with. He also mentioned that a difference of opinion existed between Mr. Walton and Mr. Ford as to the measurements. Mr. Walton stated that the figures given by Mr. Forde were practically incorrect. The Commissioner therefore proposed to get independent parsi gentlemen, who would have no sufficiently close connection with the contractors and Municipality, to verify the measurements by appointing one professional man on either side to measure up the work. This was at once agreed to, and the discussion on this matter stands adjourned for the present. In the meantime, it was resolved to print and circulate Mr. Walton's report and all correspondence bearing on the subject amongst the members.

WATER SUPPLY TO MUSJIDS.

A numerously signed petition of the Mahomedan inhabitants of Bombay was submitted and read. It was handed by the Cazi, and the list of signatures included all the influential Musulmans of the city. It prayed that the water supplied to the musjids, being restricted to the use for religious purposes only, should not be charged by the higher rate now in force, but continue to be given to them at the nominal rate of Re. 1 per annum as heretofore.

The Municipal Commissioner, in reply to a question, said no concession was now made to any Hindu or Parsee temples, Christian churches and chapels, or any other place of worship. Formerly it used to be so, and they had the water at a nominal rate.

It was resolved, after a few remarks upon the wording of the reply, "That the petitioners be informed that the Mahomedan places of worship under the new rate pay precisely the same rates as are charged upon Hindoo, Parsee, Christian and all other places of worship in the city, and that the Town Council regret that they cannot make any distinction in favour of the petitioners. The rate is charged upon all religious institutions without distinction, and is only half the usual public water rate.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Before the meeting separated, Mr. N. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy gave notice "that at the next meeting he will ask the Commissioner to produce the contract for the new drainage works, and will also ask who is responsible for the damages resulting from the falling in of the old main drain in Falkland Road. Also by whose act the accident happened."

THE MAIL DAY QUESTION.

A PUBLIC meeting of the inhabitants of the city and Presidency of Bombay was held in the Town Hall on Monday last for the purpose of forwarding a petition to His Excellency the Viceroy, praying that the present arrangement by which the departure of the overland mail steamers is fixed at 7 p. m. on Saturdays, might be changed to 7 o'clock on Friday evening. The meeting was numerously attended, and among those present were the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley, General Hewett, the Hon'ble M. Mowat, the Hon'ble M. Balfour, Messrs. Venillon, Best, W. A. Baker, Sharp, R. Baumbach, James Hay, Manseen Mant, Symons, R. D. Cairns, Madden, A. D. Saunders' Rich, W. M. Macdonald, Macrae, Booth, Lord, Taylor, H. W. Jones, Forrest, Sedgwick, E. Comber, A. Hay. Westal, Fraser Hore, Noble, H. Curwen, Dickson, Campbell, Russell, Captain Stokes, Messrs. J. M. Maclean, R. Clark, Weber, J. K. Bythell, Clement Poole, Moir, J. Graham, T. H. Moore, C. Douglas, Fiedler, Kemp, Richardson, Wyer, Freeborn, Moorhouse, J. L. Symonds Tennent, Cormack, Burn, T. Cody, Channer, Webb, Cowper, Cassels, Winter, White, Glover, Beyts, and many others including several influential native gentlemen.

Mr. Maitland, the Sheriff, having read the notice convening the meeting, the Hon'ble Mr. Mowat was voted into the chair.

The Chairman, after acknowledging the honor done him in electing him to preside on this occasion, said that it was one of great importance to the city as was seen by the vast assemblage they had there that day. Their gathering was not confined to one class of the community, but it embraced all. It is not limited to one creed for the number of natives now with them showed that they along with Europeans took a lively interest in the departure of the English mail. And no wonder. Bombay owed its greatness to its trade which was chiefly with Europe, and commerce must remain its mainstay. At first sight the time of the departure of the mail might appear a small matter in itself, but it was not really so. A departure at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening meant that a very large portion of the community must be incessant sons of toil without any prospect of that recreation which was so much appreciated at home, and which will now be enjoyed by every city of importance in India with the exception of Bombay. It further meant that one of the most popular and useful movements ever set a foot was to be crushed at the very time its usefulness was beginning to be appreciated, and the parade on Saturday last clearly showed this. The city had naturally looked on her Volunteers with pride, and the energy and ability of those at the head of the movement had rendered no small assistance to Government and to the public. (Cheers.) He was sure that His Excellency Sir Richard Temple, the Honorary Colonel of the Corps, would be one of the first to acknowledge this, and, he trusted, His Excellency would therefore become of their foremost champions in endeavouring to get an alteration of mail day. (Hear, hear.) Other Volunteer movements would until some alteration took place suffer considerably, and that change, which it seemed so desirable to have in a large city, will be denied to those who so much wanted it. But the gentlemen who were to follow him would speak more fully as to the interests threatened, and he ventured to say they would bring forward arguments which would be irresistible. And these arguments will tell all the more forcibly when they found that a change of a single day could accomplish the desired result without putting England or any part of India to the slightest inconvenience. Indeed, England would be a gainer, and a memorial which was lately presented to the Postmaster General in London showed that the merchants and bankers there wished to receive their letters as early as possible in order that they may be attended to by the first outgoing mail. A Friday departure from Bombay meant an arrival in London on Wednesday—much more convenient and earlier than Thursday is at present. Within a few hours of the arrival of the packets in London the distribution in the provinces would take place. If they would turn to the other commercial cities of the East, they would find that a Friday departure from this presidency meant the closing of despatches in Calcutta on Tuesday and in Madras on Wednesday. These were far from inconvenient days, and he (Mr. Mowat) only wished they had the choice either of them. (Applause.) He need not continue to scarcely allude to recent communications with the Director General of Post Offices in India bearing on an early departure on Saturday as the chief difficulty being unconnected in obtaining a Friday one. He thought they can show quite clearly that their old and favorite idea regarding a Friday mail remained unchanged, and that in the interests of the city they claimed to be heard. The reasons set forward by the Press Commissioner for a departure on Saturday at 7 p. m. were far from obscure. It was admitted that with an earlier departure there might be a little delay at Alexandria, and that a few passengers from the mofussil might have to hurry on board the mail steamer, but such a movement be compared with the inconveniences to which a city containing 700,000 inhabitants was being subjected? Further, the steamers were to leave at 7 p.m. all the year round [at least they had no advice to the contrary], and was it desirable that the departure should take place at this time during the rainy season? The most experienced navigators and the company carrying the mails would answer—No. [Applause]. They therefore appealed to the powers which be to aid them in obtaining a change which, while it would be valuable to a great and a loyal city—a boon by which no one would suffer, but which would reflect credit on those who were instrumental in bringing about what was craved for in the petition, to which their attention was now about to be directed. (Loud applause.)

The Chairman then stated that the next matter before the meeting was the consideration of the petition to H. E. the Viceroy. As it had appeared in the newspapers this (Monday) morning, he asked whether it might be taken as read. On putting the matter to the meeting it was unanimously decided that it should be taken as read.

The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley was heartily applauded as he arose to address the meeting. He said, the very few prefatory remarks indeed. The petition, in his opinion, stated the case of those who advocated that view succinctly and with great force, and in considering the arguments which formed portion of the petition had reference to the mercantile and banking interests in the city, he would leave to his friends, Mr. Balfour and Mr. Bythell, all of whom they had often, no doubt, been brought into contact with on the same and various reasons in addition to those stated, why they should adopt that petition. But one paragraph in the petition related to a subject which indeed him to be present on this occasion, and that was the fourth paragraph which stated "That the abolition of the Saturday half holiday will interfere seriously with, and probably endanger altogether, the Volunteer movement in this city—a movement which has so far received every support from Government, and strong encouragement from the public, including the mercantile community." (Applause.) Now, the volunteer movement was even in England, throwing aside the corresponding movement in Napoleon's war, or comparatively recent date. It was only a few years ago that the Volunteer movement was started in London. He (the speaker) was then at the Antipodes, and could not personally say but so learnt from a book of references. The movement in England had been a marvellous success, and was acknowledged by public critics to be a strong element in the natural defence of the country. Here the corps was in its infancy—it was not three years old. It was passed griffinhood, perhaps, but was still an infant and young, and it required that no obstacle should be placed in the way of development—and he submitted the much large development—of the regiment to which he had the honor to belong. (Applause). They had the most energetic and vigorous man in Bombay as their colonel, and he (Mr. Bayley) had it from his own lips, that he would use his utmost endeavours by communication with England to obtain a change either in the hour or the day. (Loud applause.) The volunteer movement had been received with great kindness by not only the banking and mercantile community, but by a class to whom he (the speaker) yielded to no one in respect and esteem—the ladies of the city. They had come to that hall—and he trusted to see them there shortly again—and enjoyed themselves, as ladies do when dancing with their friends to good music. (Applause.) As the petition pointed out there was no doubt of this Saturday evening departure being a very serious obstacle to the efficiency of the regiment. They had only had to look at what took place last Saturday in that Town Hall, when only, he believed, 24 rank and file were present out of a body consisting of some 500 men. Then, again, as far as he could see at present, the present arrangement would benefit nobody. But if changed either to 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon or 7 p.m. on Friday, the advantage must be recognised by everybody. With these few remarks he now proposed that the petition be and is hereby adopted. (Applause.)

The Hon'ble Mr. M. Balfour, in seconding the resolution proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley, said that it was with feelings of regret and repugnance that he rose after the announcement made by the Government of India, stating that the despatch of the mail steamers from this port would be on Saturday evening, because no sufficient reason was given for the determination arrived at. (Applause.) This was an unprovoked assault on the Saturday half-holiday which had been hitherto enjoyed by the people of Bombay, because everybody in business would be engaged in scribbling away to send the latest news on board. They would, however, in fairness to all concerned have to consider the advantages of a despatch on a Saturday over a Friday evening. If the mails were to leave here on a Saturday, the Calcutta mail would have to be prepared on Friday, the Madras one on Thursday, and they would arrive in London early on a Thursday evening, whereas, if the mails left on a Friday, the Calcutta one would have to be prepared on a Thursday, the Madras one on a Wednesday, and they would arrive in London on the Wednesday morning. He was aware that of the fine season only which was eight months in the year, and in reviewing this question it would be sufficient to take into consideration the two other principal centres of trade exchange in India, these were Calcutta and Madras, which could have no reason to complain if the steamer were to leave Bombay on Friday evening. In London they would be benefited by the change, and he hoped that Lord Lytton would be graciously pleased to sanction the application for, they had already been long clearly and distinctly laid down in the petition. It was there stated that in the monsoon months the mails would arrive at home one day or two days later with the result of the same inconvenience to all the business centres, excepting London, that at present the present arrangement would be experienced for the greater part of the year. Now, this was quite plain, and he hoped he had satisfied those present that there was no plea of necessity for advancing and supporting the closing of the Board on Saturday evening. If the plea of mercy were urged in support of that course, it could not be maintained, inasmuch as the change for which they had now met to urge upon the Government of India would not subject the passengers by the mail steamers to the glaires of Egypt for one minute more than they were now bound to endure the risk. (Applause.) Were there cause from necessity or mercy why the steamer should leave on Saturday evening, he should simply bow to circumstances and deplore his unhappy fate, but no such plea could be maintained. Why, then, should they lose their Saturday half-holiday? If it were deemed necessary in the interest of humanity that a Saturday half-holiday should be regarded as a national institution in England, how much more necessary was a similar concession from the enervating climate where wives and families were often compelled to leave Bombay and go to Matheran and Poona, and their only chance of seeing them for weeks after was by the aid of the Saturday half-holiday. Their eloquent Trans-Atlantic cousin at the opening of the Prince's Dock likened the influence of commerce to the noiseless action of a pagoa tree which had taken root perhaps in one of those many remains of their Portuguese predecessors which were to be seen on every coign of vantage round Bombay. The tree, he said, gradually, silently covered the old ruin with its roots and branches, and in like manner commerce encircled and enriched the native, slowly shaking their prejudices and giving a spirit of loyalty combined with self-reliance. He (Mr. Balfour) ventured, however, to add that while admitting all that was then said in favour of commerce it is able to exercise another influence also, and one not of a favourable character. Commerce was apt to harden a man to make him somewhat careless of the feelings of others, to make his whole aim in life the addition of one lakh more to the pile he had already made to plant his foot one rung higher on the ladder of commercial credit. The Saturday half-holiday, however, would enable their commercial friend to spend that time with his wife and children to feel the softening influence of home life, and to realise that there was something else worth living for beside the gains of speculation or the greed for paisa. They spoke not for themselves alone; they ask the privilege for their Aryan brethren also. All who know anything of native character must often have watched with pleasure the deep affection which every native, from the coolie upwards, had for his children. Now, why should he, too, not have a half-holiday to admire the mighty works of the Grand Creator whom all castes and all creeds revered. Possibly the day is not far distant—the great had been the strides of civilization lately—when he would take his wife and babes on a Saturday afternoon to that people's park and zoological garden into which their energetic Governor had promised to convert the Kamer-ka-bagicha. The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley, the gallant Major of their local Volunteer force, had spoken in distinct terms of the blighting effect which the despatch of the mail steamer on Saturday at 7 p.m. would have upon his distinguished corps, and he (Mr. Balfour) doubted not there was hardly a man amongst them who could not urge some valid reason why the mail should be despatched on Friday evening. No one would be inconvenienced or prejudiced by what they asked, and the cause of humanity and civilization would be served by the change. He therefore had great pleasure in seconding the resolution.

Mr. J. K. Bythell said it was almost superfluous to occupy the time of the meeting by any remarks in supporting the resolution, because every prominent argument had not only been referred to by previous speakers, but was also set forth at length in the memorial itself. Still it might be well to show that they did not give the memorial merely a lukewarm support—that they did not follow blindly like a flock of sheep the lead that had been set before us. A good many years ago the Chamber of Commerce once held a meeting to pass a memorial to the then Governor of Bombay. As the subject of that memorial had been discussed by, and the opinion of the Chamber thereon had been made known very frequently, the members present at that meeting contented themselves with voting for the memorial without reiterating their arguments in its favour. The result was, however, that the Governor remarked on several occasions that it was evident to him that the Chamber took very little interest in the matter, and he (the speaker) felt sure that because not one member had risen to support the mover and seconder of the resolution adopting the memorial. That little incident made a strong impression on his, (Mr. Bythell's) mind, and he had since endeavoured to remember the lesson it taught whenever he was connected with any public demonstration like the present. There was, however, another reason why it would perhaps be well for some merchants to speak in support of the memorial. As the honourable mover of the resolution was the senior Major of the local Volunteer corps, it was quite natural that he should take alarm at, and protest strongly against any arrangement likely to be a death blow to that corps, and it was also only to be expected that a gentleman so imbued with public spirit as the honourable seconder should give his valuable aid, but if the memorial should unfortunately meet with any unexpected opposition, and some people tried to cavil at the proceedings of that meeting, it might possibly be urged that both those gentlemen spoke on hearsay evidence only—a class of evidence which probably would not have much weight in the High Court. He had no doubt that so long as the mail closed on Saturday evening scarcely a man from any export office or any exchange bank would be present on a volunteer parade during the busy season from October to March, but he (Mr. Bythell) had spoken of a departure at an early hour on the Saturday afternoon as though he would be prepared to accept such an arrangement or a settlement of the question, but he, (Mr. Bythell) wished to take the opportunity of stating publicly that he disapproved strongly the matter being settled in that way. He personally should oppose, and he believed all export merchants would oppose, a Saturday early closing, as strongly as they would oppose a change in the time for exporting the Friday evening proposal, because it would be an intolerable nuisance and next to impossible to close their mail in the forenoon. He wished to be clearly understood on this point. The most hopeful line in connection with the proposal they were that day advocating was that they would certainly have the support of the mercantile community in England. It made all the difference in the world to have the all powerful home influence with them instead of against them, and the experience of the last experience corroborate what the memorial said as to opinion in England. When he left England, a month ago that day, merchants there were greatly annoyed at the prospect of receiving at the most inconvenient time, or shortly before the closing of the outward mail. And that was not to be wondered at, for it must be remembered that many merchants and bankers at home not only received letters by the mail from Bombay but also from Calcutta, Madras, China and Japan, and even those who were not familiar with mercantile office work would easily see how very inconvenient it must be for those bankers and merchants to receive the letters by one mail, and to post answers by the mail. As the chairman had said, a memorial had in fact been already signed influentially in London, Manchester and Liverpool praying that the departure from Bombay might be fixed so as to allow of such inconvenience and inconvenience. It was also a great matter to be assured of the support of the Bombay Government, and they might reasonably conclude that the Government would likewise be on their side when they saw that the present arrangement would probably result in the Volunteer movement in this city. It would be a work of supererogation to argue that the Volunteer movement in this country ought to be supported because the Government of India had shown that they were alive to the importance of getting as many Englishmen as possible trained to the use of arms. Their position then was this—they know that the home mercantile community would support them; they know that the Bombay Government are with them; they had good reason to believe that the Government of India were with them; Calcutta and Madras had no reasonable ground for opposing them; and they may surely then conclude that the prayer of their memorial would speedily be granted.

Mr. Maclean said he had been asked to speak in support of the resolution. He had been connected for many years with Bombay would soon cease, he
